

GIC Generic Instructor Course

Summary

ALSG's Generic Instructor Course exists to teach the principles of adult learning.

The GIC aims to teach:

- The nature of teaching and learning
- The needs of learners
- The variations between learners
- The awareness of the four domains of learning
- The awareness of elements of a teaching session

Eligibility

Only those candidates recommended for instructor training from their provider course can attend the Generic Instructor Course.

Once you have been recommended for instructor training, you will receive an email from ALSG with a dates and venues document attached.

Syllabus

| 3 day face-to-face course (F2F) | |
|---------------------------------|--|
| Lectures | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Adult learning • Feedback • Lectures • Skills teaching with continuous assessment • Simulation teach • Simulation assessment • Group dynamics |
| Practical stations | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lecture & presentation skills • Equipment familiarisation • Teaching simulations • Skills teaching with continuous assessment • Facilitating small groups • Simulation assessment |

