Practical skills for people who care for children

Develop your skills and confidence in recognising and responding to injuries and medical emergencies involving children and infants. This instructor-led classroom course combines clear explanations, hands-on practice and realistic scenarios.

Who is this course for?

Teachers, childcare professionals, early years staff, sports coaches, parents, carers and anyone with responsibility for children.

What the course covers

- Assessing an emergency and calling for appropriate help
- Child and infant CPR, AED use and choking management
- Bleeding, wounds, burns and suspected fractures
- Asthma, seizures, suspected anaphylaxis and diabetic emergencies
- Suspected poisoning and heat- or cold-related illness

Practical learning and certification

Practise key skills using training equipment, with instructor guidance and feedback. Scenarios help you apply your learning, communicate clearly and work with others during an emergency.

Participants who successfully complete the course receive an Immediate Care Training certificate of completion. The course carries 6 NMBI CPD points.
